

Resources in Puerto Rico

❖ In Puerto Rico, the parent home educator has T'CHERS' website www.tchers.net. In it you can find information on many of the following topics, among them:

- How to start home education.

- Learning styles and teaching methods.

- The resources available to the home educator.

- Legal information and suggested guides on education in the home.

- List of local support groups. TCHERS does not meet like support groups to do activities, it is an island-level organization whose mission is to guide families.

- Exclusive closed group for members on Facebook (membership required), where parents share their concerns and experiences with other community members, as well as materials, discounts, and provider offers.

- Facebook general information page: TCHERS HOMESCHOOLING PUERTO RICO.
